

Clay Greer / Gallery 128 Alexander City

Alexander City rising artist Clay Greer is following up Art on the Lake and his successful show at Sylacauga's Comer Museum with a new show entitled Decadence at Alexander City's Gallery 128.

His new works are a collection reflecting both his time as an apprentice under master artist Fred Nall Hollis, better known as Nall, as well as Greer's own Southern upbringing. The exhibit will include sculpture, oil paintings, and thermographic prints--each with their own story.

Come enjoy the art and good food at Gallery 128, inside Emporium Wine at 128 Calhoun Street in Alex City (near Carlisle Drugs). It's in the heart of Alex City's art and entertainment district. The exhibit runs from Monday July 27th through August 28; Gallery hours for Decadence are Tuesdays - Fridays 10-5, and Saturdays 10-2.
